WARM PRAISE FOR UTAH

STATE'S REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS DO GOOD WORK.

Members of the senate committee on reclamation of arid lands spent yesterday in Salt Lake, going over the ground where irrigation was first practiced on the western hemisphere and viewing the results of this work on the Mormon pioneer as shown in Salt Lake and Weber counties.

Included in the party were Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana, chairman of the committee; Senator Wesley H. Jones of Washington; Senator Francis H. Warren of Wyoming; Senator William E. Borah of Idaho; Frederick H. Newell, chief of the reclamation service; H. W. Smith of San Francisco, E. A. Wadleigh of Denver, assistant general passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande; Stephen J. Murphy, sergeant at arms of the United States senate; Governor William Spry, Congressman Joseph Howell and Senator George Sutherland, who is a member of the senate committee. J. E. Cosgriff of Salt Lake, a personal friend of Senator Warren, also accompanied the party on an automobile trip around Salt Lake and Port Douglas.

After seeing the dam and making a trip to the lake the party, including Senator Sutherland, left for Fallon, Nev., at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, where they will inspect the Carson-Tucker irrigation project and the Lake Tahoe reservoir, before proceeding to the Pacific coast and then return to Washington by way of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Work of Pioneers.

Irrigation work in Utah, as outlined to the visiting senators, began on the day the pioneers entered Salt Lake valley, July 24, 1847, when their first act was to turn the waters of City creek out upon the barren waste, before they could penetrate the soil with their plows. It was Arthur L. Thomas, then governor of the territory of Utah, who was chairman of the first executive committee of the irrigation congress of the United States, and it was Postmaster Thomas, then governor, who called the first irrigation congress that ever met in the United States, and that convened in Salt Lake. The work of Governor Thomas, as one of the prime movers in organizing the first national meeting of men interested in reclaiming the west, was commented on by members of the committee yesterday, who called attention to the fact that the United States government, since that time, 1891, had spent $50,000,000 in reclaiming the deserts of the west through irrigation and had paid for the same as much more in the next few years.

The election of Arthur L. Thomas as chairman of the executive committee of the first national irrigation congress followed a suggestion of Francis G. Newlands, who at that congress was a member of the committee. "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the convention: We all realize that this convention has been a success. We all know that the organization of this convention is due to the untiring energy of the governor of Utah, Governor Thomas, and it seems to me it would be a graceful and appropriate thing by unanimous consent, to add Governor Thomas to this executive committee, that we may have one of ourselves of the abilities which he has shown so largely in the organization of this convention, I make a motion to this effect." This motion was carried unanimously.

Utah's Part in Plan.

"Utah's participation in the work of the reclamation of arid lands, which began before statehood, has been carried on with increasing effectiveness since the days of your pioneers," said a member of the committee yesterday. "Senator Sutherland, a member of our committee, has been an earnest supporter of every measure in congress that had for its object the enlargement of the scope of land reclamation in the west and although Utah is directly affected by every move in this direction, the work of Senator Sutherland has been broad in every degree."

WHISKEY FOR COLDS

The increased use of whiskey for colds is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following is the formula:
Mix two ounces of glycerine with eight ounces of good whiskey and add one-half ounce of Concentrated pine compound. Take a teaspoonful or a tablespoonful every four hours.
Any good druggist has these ingredients. Concentrated pine is a special pine product and comes only in half-ounce bottles, each enclosed in an air-tight case, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

tail and he has recognized the needs of every state in this region, where every dollar invested by the United States government in reclamation projects means more prosperity for every industry in the state.

Senator Smoot, who is a member of the national conservation commission, and, I believe, chairman of the committee on forestry, also has been a staunch advocate of the western states, in working towards the extension of the work of the reclamation service.

BURGLARS STEAL STOCKS

Denver Police Ask Salt Lake Department to Catch the Bold Thieves.

Mining stocks, deeds, notes, options, leases and other valuable securities to the amount of $20,000, some of them on mining property in Utah, may turn up in Salt Lake within the next few days, according to advice received by the detective department from the Denver police, and two men and a woman are expected to have them. The property was stolen from the residence of Henry Jaeger, a mining man of No. 255 Humboldt street, Denver, and it is his belief that the thieves may make an effort to dispose of some of the papers in Salt Lake. A reward of $100 has been offered for the return of the papers.

The exact character of the papers has not been made known and the only statement made is that the persons now having them in their possession may find it possible to convert some of them into cash through mining interests in Salt Lake or some other city. It is understood that some of the leases held are on mining claims in this state.
The thieves secured the papers by breaking into the Jaeger residence.

ARE CHARGED WITH FIGHTING IN STREET

Lying upon his back, with the blood flowing freely from a cut over his left eye, Fred Johnson, a laborer, attracted a large crowd to lower Commercial street, about 8 o'clock last night, by crying that he was being murdered. Johnson was being pummeled by H. J. Miller, a man of hardly more than half his size and weight, and the smaller man could not be induced to cease his bantamweight attacks until seized by Sergeant E. V. Smith, who took him to the police station, and Johnson said he had been struck by a weapon in the hands of Miller. The men were charged with fighting.

BAGGAGE DESTROYED
DURING CELEBRATION

Somebody's baggage went skyward in a curl of flame at the O. S. L. depot, Tuesday night, during the election celebration, and a trio of youthful employees of the railroad company are in the city jail, where it is probable that a charge of destroying property will be placed against them. The boys gave the names of E. Blair, R. Moore and E. Beal. Patrolman J. Riley made the arrests yesterday, and brought the trio to the station. The boys say they have made arrangements to reimburse the railroad company for the damage done.

FINAL HONOR OF WESTERN PACIFIC

No Formal Ceremony Marks
Laying of Last Rail at the State Line.

Without any ceremony, other than a little extra firewater for the Indian and Italian laborers, the last rail on the Western Pacific road was laid today on the western side of the Nevada-California line. The only orations made will be by the polyglot construction boss, who is said to be a native of the West, and the Italian laborers will be paid off while the rest will be retained to put the finishing touches on the roadbed.
Early this morning the first train will start from San Francisco to Salt Lake. Charles H. Schlacks, vice president of the Western Pacific, will be in charge of the train, which will run only in daylight, and will not reach Salt Lake until Monday or Tuesday. Before even freight traffic is opened, several bridges must be lighted up, but it is understood that freight trains will be running in December.

The interstate commerce regulations are responsible for the absence of any ceremony in laying the last rail. It is illegal for the road to carry the mayor and prominent citizens beyond the state lines unless they pay fare, and a golden spike ceremony would be flat without the presence of some besides the employees of the road.
The man chosen for general passenger agent of the Western Pacific, Mr. Wadleigh, was Salt Lake yesterday. He came from Denver with the senate irrigation committee. He would not discuss the probability of being appointed general passenger agent, but it is understood among Denver & Rio Grande officials that both Mr. Wadleigh and Colonel I. A. Benton have tried to decline the "promotion," but Mr. Wadleigh's declination has been accepted.
Major S. K. Hooper, to whom Mr. Wadleigh is assistant, has been contending that he cannot spare the well known citizen there who told through the newspapers what you had done for them. Have you any detailed proof of this?

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The first lecture of the year for the university of Utah medical society was delivered by Dr. S. C. Baldwin Thursday afternoon on the subject of "Bloodless Surgery." The lecture was attended by students the various forms of congenital hip dislocation and the methods of treating them by bloodless means were discussed. The year other prominent physicians of the city will lecture before the society.

At a meeting of the engineering society Dr. Joseph F. Merrill, director of the school of mines, spoke to the students on the lectures which will be delivered before the engineering society by prominent engineers the coming year.
The third complimentary class dance of the year will be given by the sophomore in the museum hall this afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock.
The first meeting of the French circle was held in the kindergarten rooms Thursday afternoon. French selections were read and refreshments were served. A similar afternoon will be given twice each month throughout the school year.
The first meeting of the year for the management of the preliminary debates from which will be selected the team to debate against the University of Oregon on Jan. 14, was held Thursday afternoon. Coach A. B. Roberts instructed the men on the preliminary forms of debating and the methods of arranging their material.

Residents of the district lying north and south of Thirteenth South street, between State and West Temple streets, are making an effort to get city mail delivery. A petition, signed by forty residents of the district, was presented to Postmaster Thomas A. L. Thomas. The district for which the delivery is desired includes the south two-thirds of block 46 and the north seventy rods block 42, also Oakland avenue, all in lot 15, block 33, ten-acre plat A, Big field survey.

SHEEP RANGES GOOD.

Pasture Better Than Usual at This Time of Year.

Sheep men of the state are busily engaged at present in taking their sheep to their quarters for the winter. C. B. Stoddard, secretary of the Utah Wool Growers' association, says the ranges are in much better condition this year than they were last winter and it is expected that the sheep will get through the winter in good condition. Many are being taken into western Wyoming, where the grass is much longer than on the desert.

FAIR AND COOLER.

Rain at Boston and Seattle, but Sun Shines Here.

Metecological conditions remain the same as for yesterday. A few westwardly showers are falling at Boston and at Seattle. The prediction for Friday is for clear skies and temperature above normal.

TELLS ABOUT MEXICO.

Former Salt Laker Says Country is Making Great Strides.

John B. Carlson, formerly a resident of Salt Lake and now living in the City of Mexico, is visiting in Salt Lake stopping at the Knutsford. Mr. Carlson is interested in and operates, for eastern men, a cattle ranch covering 20,000 acres of the fertile San Luis mountain range, fifty miles from the Mexican capital. Mr. Carlson is also part owner of the Gomez hotel in the City of Mexico.
"The City of Mexico is fast coming to be one of the most modern cities of the world," Mr. Carlson says. "The city is being built up by American money and capital. Many millions of dollars are being put into Mexican industries around the capital by American money and capital. Mr. Carlson will leave today for Idaho Falls, where he has relatives. He will spend most of the winter in the States, going to New York at the first of the year and back to Mexico in the spring."

HIGHWAY ROBBER IS HELD FOR COURT

John Berry, charged with highway robbery, was bound over to the district court by Judge J. M. Bowman, yesterday morning, under a bond of $1,000. In default of bond, Berry was placed in the county jail. He was captured by B. A. Lawrence Monday night, Lawrence knocking him down and telephoning for the police. John Berry stuck a gun in his face and ordered him to hold up his hands.

Stomach Man Gives Long List of People Who Took His Treatment.

GETS ATTENTION HERE

95 PER CENT OF ILL HEALTH
CAUSED BY INDIGESTION.

The Cooper "stomach man," the eastern expert, who claims that Americans have weak stomachs, and who has attracted wide attention in eastern and Pacific coast cities by his common sense health theories, seems to be receiving an unusual amount of attention in Salt Lake City. During the first day of meeting the people here yesterday his headquarters at Smith's "Busy Corner" drug store, at Main and Second South streets, was thronged by a constant stream of callers. Many of those who came to see him were persons who had known of his work in the east.

The "stomach man" claims that 95 per cent of all ill health is caused by stomach trouble, and nothing else. He said:

"In every city where I have been I have had brain workers and society women, clerks, skilled laborers and their hard working wives call to see me. They say that they are suffering from some form of nervous trouble. They seem to attribute all their troubles to nerves. It's not their nerves. It's their stomachs. They are overworked, stuffed with digestive organs—that's where the trouble is."

"It has been reported that you created a sensation in San Francisco on account of the receipt of well known citizens there who told through the newspapers what you had done for them. Have you any detailed proof of this?"

"Well, you can look over these," he replied. "Pick out what you want." He handed over the counter a bundle of original letters, properly signed, in which there must have been a thousand people. A few selected at random and condensed, were as follows:

P. H. Wagner of 2566 Bryant street; suffered tortures three years from catarrh of the stomach; says any claims Cooper may make are very conservative.

Mrs. F. Martens of 1257 Golden Gate avenue; suffered for years with stomach trouble and nervousness; took Cooper's treatment and now can hardly believe she is cured.

Mrs. George Barnett, 524 Montgomery avenue; suffered from chronic stomach trouble and could eat nothing but liquid food; now says she is 100 per cent better than for years.

W. B. Johnson, 3246 Twenty-second street; was a chronic dyspeptic and consulted many physicians; took Cooper's treatment and obtained relief; he says, that it was positively wonderful.

Mrs. J. C. Terwiler of 1620 Church street; suffered from catarrh of the stomach for fifteen years; had acute gastritis and was run down generally; took Cooper's treatment and now feels twenty years younger.

Mrs. E. L. Lewis, 1211 Guerrero street; suffered six years from chronic indigestion and feared she had consumption; now well again.
Mrs. W. R. Harris, 2023 Fillmore street; is a trained nurse by profession; took Cooper's remedy for chronic stomach trouble and now is a well woman, her husband cured of rheumatism.

Joseph Pinkney, 376 San Carlos avenue was a very sick man for a number of years; suffered from all forms of stomach trouble; gave Cooper's medicine a trial and now is a well man.

Mrs. William Coleman, 2454 Geary street, had stomach trouble and nerve exhaustion more than a year; took Cooper's treatment three weeks and now is happy, cheerful and light-hearted.

P. L. Archibald, Belmont, Cal.; had been a sick man for years with stomach trouble, caused by gastric catarrh; now he is at work again, after having been forced to remain idle for a long time on account of ill health.

Mrs. Eveline Lesser, 365 Howth street, had been ill for several years; her health physicians nor medicines helped her in the least; says Cooper's preparation is only one she has ever found that has real merit and will do what is claimed for it.
T. C. Simmonds, 968 Hampshire street, foreman of United States army transport dock, suffered more than thirty years until he met Cooper and tried his remedy; now is a well man.

Mrs. Phyllis Jones, Glen avenue, had chronic stomach trouble for years; called on Cooper in a skeptical frame of mind, but now is proud to call herself a Cooper convert.

M. Henry Meyers, 948 Mission street, suffered tortures beyond description for two years; had catarrh of the stomach and was treated by physicians at various times; took some of Cooper's remedy and gives all credit to Cooper for the fact that he is now a well man.

FARMINGTON MARRIAGE;
HONEYMOON IS SHORT

Crucely since the time of her marriage four months ago at Farmington is charged by Gertrude Carter in a suit for divorce filed in the district court yesterday against William H. Carter. No sooner had the two been married than he told her, she says: "I wish I had never met you, and I don't want to live with you any longer."
She says she sold all her jewelry, consisting of a diamond brooch and bracelet, and kept the money. Plaintiff says she has taken care of Carter's child by a former marriage. She demands divorce, and her maiden name of Gertrude Reese, with $300 alimony.

TELLS COUNCILMEN
ABOUT HOG CHOLERA

The city council met last night in special session, passed the payrolls for October, amounting to $1,000. The city meat inspector, to look at two hogs which had cholera, and the meat inspector was afflicted with lumpy jaw. Six hogs out of a carload shipped from Idaho were found to have cholera, and the meat inspector was afflicted with lumpy jaw. Treman gave a short, informal talk on the disease and showed how it manifests itself in the hogs.

SEVEN HOGS CONDEMNED

Meat Inspector Finds First Cases of Cholera This Year.

The first cases of hog cholera of the year were found by the city meat inspector J. W. Treman yesterday, when six hogs were condemned. The hogs were from Idaho.

There have been no cases of hog cholera noted in Salt Lake or Utah this year, as the farmers have been especially careful. Reports have come that cholera is found in many hogs in Idaho and adjoining states.

BOARD WILL OPEN
BIDS FOR PAVING

P. J. Moran Likely to Be the Only Bidder for Miles of Streets.

At the meeting of the board of public works tonight bids will be opened for the paving of Third South street from State street to Tenth East. Asphalt paving will be used, and in all likelihood P. J. Moran will be the only bidder. The city engineer's estimate for the cost of the paving will be $143,916.55, of which the abutting property owners will pay $105,000 and the city's portion will be $38,916.55. The actual cost will probably be about $30,000 more.
The board is to have this work taken up next spring and to complete it during the year, together with a good deal of the asphalt paving of Ninth East street from South Temple to the city limits. This will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, probably more. The Third South paving will be 82 feet wide from State street to Third East, 72 feet from Third East to Sixth East, 60 feet wide from Sixth East to Ninth East and 50 feet from Ninth East to Tenth East street. The cost on the four divisions of the work, per linear foot for the property owners will be $11, $7.50, $7.50 and $5.00. In the job there are 11,550 feet, a little over two miles.
The board tonight will open bids and let contracts for a weir in City creek canyon, near the tower, which will be used to divert the water from the creek into this location all the way to the Jordan river, and thus dodge the possibility of overflows from the canyon in the spring.

Three sewer contracts will also be let, Nos. 230, 225 and 223. At the next meeting of the board, on Nov. 15, bids will be opened for the asphalt paving of Ninth East street from South Temple street to the city limits. This will cost approximately $50,000 to the property owners along the route and will be one of the largest and most important asphalt boulevards in the city.

This is to be completed during 1910, besides some smaller jobs, such as the cross streets between South Temple and Third South streets, all the way from Second South street to East on the cross streets there will be a plot of parking in the middle with asphalt paving on either side, similar to Seventh East street.
Some of the preparatory work may be done yet this year on Third South street, but no great amount will be done before good weather begins next year.

RUSH TO PAY TAXES.

Largest Day's Business of Year at County Treasurer's Office.

More than $100,000 was taken in yesterday by the county treasurer—the largest day's business of the year, marking the start of the real paying of taxes. Up to the present time about $250,000 has been paid by the taxpayers, leaving about $2,000,000 to be collected. Taxes become delinquent after Nov. 15, and now on and the treasurer is rushing to the county. On the first of the month the county distributed about $100,000, leaving $150,000 now on hand, which he will use to take up outstanding warrants.

County Treasurer John A. Groesbeck said yesterday that he expects the real flow of money to start next Monday, although he would prefer that some of it come in now. There will be a rush during the last few days, and it is certain that the deputies in the office will have to do some night work on the books to record the flow of money into the county coffers.
